Black lives matter

Library Catalogs + Articles

Q

To begin your search, enter your search terms in the box and hit enter, or click on the magnifying glass. Your terms can be as broad or specific as you want, but know that broad search terms will often result in a large number of results. Don't be afraid to try a few different terms until you find what you are looking for. Scholar OneSearch will default to searching the library's catalogs plus academic journal articles.

Basic Search

The screenshot shows the Northeastern University Library Scholar OneSearch interface. The search bar at the top contains the text "Black lives matter". Below the search bar, the results are displayed on a grid. On the left side, there is a "Filter My Results" panel with several options: "Expand beyond library collections" (unchecked), "Sort by" (set to "Relevance"), "Show Only" (with a dropdown arrow), and "Material Type" (with a dropdown arrow). The "Material Type" section is highlighted with a red arrow. The results list includes three items: 1. A book titled "Black Lives Matter and Music: Protest, Intervention, Reflection" by Maultsby; Portia K.; orejuela; Fernando; shonekan; Stephanie, published by Indiana University Press. 2. A video titled "Women's leadership online summit. Leadership lessons from Black Lives Matter" by Sen, Rinku, host, interviewer; Khan-Cullors, Patrisse, 1984- interviewee, published by Berrett-Koehler Publishers in 2019. 3. An article titled "Black lives matter: Differential mortality and the racial composition of the U.S. electorate, 1970-2004" by Rodriguez, Javier M; Geronimus, Arline T; Bound, John; Dorling, Danny, published by Elsevier BV. The page number "PAGE 1" is visible in the bottom right corner.

On the results screen, you have many options for sorting or narrowing your search results. You can sort by relevance, author, title, and date, You can also limit your results to a specific material type, such as books, newspaper articles, or journal articles. There are additional options for limiting to a specific author, subject, or date range, for example if you are only interested in material published in the last five years.

Catalog Search

If you are looking only for books, e-books, or videos located at Snell Library, the Law Library, and the John D. O'Bryant African American Institute, limit your search by choosing "Library Catalogs" in the dropdown menu.

Signing In

From the results page, you will be prompted to sign in with your myNortheastern username and password. Signing in is not required for conducting a basic search, but you should consider signing in to access the full features of Scholar OneSearch, including viewing full search results, saving results in My Favorites, or exporting citations to a citation management system.

Climate change: negotiations in Durban over greenhouse-gas emissions should not try to revive Kyoto

Nature.

479.7373 (Nov. 17, 2011) p267+. Word Count: 834. Reading Level (Lexile): 1500.

In a memorable scene in Al Gore's film on global warming, An Inconvenient Truth, the former US vice-president lampoons a cartoon of a pair of scales that weighs the Earth against a stack of gold bars. Gore's point is...
