

BOOKS RECEIVED

UNDER PRESSURE: DIAMOND MINING AND EVERYDAY LIFE IN NORTHERN CANADA. By LINDSAY A. BELL. Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 2023. ISBN 978-1-4875-4821-6. xiv + 172p., maps, b&w illus., bib., index. Softbound. Cdn.$26.95. Also available as an ebook and pdf.

PAPERS TO APPEAR

- Mizel, J.D. Tall and Low Shrub-adapted Passerines Respond Differently to Shrub Expansion in Arctic and Subarctic Alaska.
- Strong, W.L. Latitudinal Dispersal of Southern North American Glacial Refugial Plants Within Yukon, Canada.
- Xu, C., Wu, Y., Williams, W.J., Anstey, K., Wan, D., and Greenberg, D. Baroclinic Tide Generation at the Dolphin and Union Strait in the Southern Canadian Arctic Archipelago.
- Vanderkaden, S., Bailey, M., Giles, A., and Milley, C. Re-considering Market Development Approaches to Support Nunavut Inuit Priorities in the Seal Market.
- Bruce, K., and Mulrennan, M. Co-management as an Ethical Space of Engagement: Prospects for Reconciliation in Vuntut National Park.
- Reeves, R.R., and Lee, D.A. Review of Science and Conservation Management for the Cumberland Sound Beluga Population.
- Baril, D., and Lévesque, F. Policing the Arctic: Relations Between the Mounted Police and Inuit in the Eastern Canadian Arctic During Sled Dog Patrols, 1903–1945.
- Nyland, K.E., Klene, A.E., Nelson, F.E., and Shiklomanov, N.I. Permafrost Food Storage Monitoring and Vulnerability Assessment in Utqiagvik, Alaska.
- Landriault, M., Millette, A., and Renaud, J. The Arctic Twittersphere and the Russian Invasion of Ukraine.
- Soppela, P., Kynkäänniemi, S.-M., and Wallén, H. Reindeer as Draught Animals in Tourism: Bringing Past Traditions into Modern Practices.