

JOURNAL OF CARIBBEAN STUDIES

Journal of Caribbean Studies appears three times a year. It is the official journal of the Association of Caribbean Studies, presently headquartered at the Program in Caribbean African and Afro-American Studies, University of Miami.

Edited by O. R. Dathorne, eminent scholar and writer, journal articles are published in English, French and Spanish. The scope is interdisciplinary and guests have edited various numbers.

Submissions should follow a uniform style and should, if possible, be in triplicate.

The subscription rate is:

One year: $25 (Individual)
$100 (Institutional)

Payments should be made in U.S. dollars or equivalent unless other arrangements are made.

All correspondence — manuscripts, subscriptions, books for review, inquiries — should be sent to:

Indian Literature in English

A special issue on Indian Literature in English is planned for the summer of 1983. Submissions are invited on the poetry, fiction and drama of India; original poems on Indian themes are invited for our poetry selection. The issue will be co-edited by Inder Nath Kher and submissions should reach the editors by May 31st, 1983.

Issues of Language

A special number on issues of language is planned for 1984. Submissions on such topics as the role of the vernacular in literatures in English or their relation to those in other languages in multi-language cultures are invited, as are practical textual or intertextual studies and theoretic studies of the function of language in text. Poetry will be selected with particular emphasis on its extension of the resources of poetic language. The number will be co-edited by Pamela McCallum and submissions should reach the editors by May 31st, 1984.
