A STUDY OF THEMES AND IMAGES IN CANADIAN LITERATURE

D. G. JONES

This fresh and unconventional discussion, based on the author's wide knowledge of the original works, makes Canadian literature (primarily that written in English) intelligible in terms of its imaginative patterns and inner concerns. The approach is cultural and psychological rather than purely aesthetic or literary. The book considers some of the themes and images that have taken root in Canadian poetry and fiction during the past three generations, and by isolating these themes it defines more clearly some of the features that recur in the mind, the mirror of our imaginative life.

Ah! Burmah on the summer-going by-pass
Where ev'rything is speeding to the sea
It's scarce a cause for wonder
That here where lorries thunder
Burmah petrol keeps our engines running free
