READINGS IN LITERARY CRITICISM

Edited by

JUDITH O'NEILL

An important new paperback series designed for students of English Literature, particularly those in new Universities and Colleges where library facilities are still limited. The series will also be of value to sixth form students specializing in English.

The editor has brought together a selection of the best critical essays and discussions, including many that are not easily available outside well-established and comprehensive libraries. Different critical points of view are set side by side, thus helping the student to find a position of his own.

The intention is not to limit the student's critical reading to one small volume, but to stimulate him to explore the critics more widely for himself.

Collins Annotated Student Texts

General Editor:
Prof. Mark Roberts

A series for university classes. Each volume offers a brief introduction and very full notes, designed to be read rather than merely consulted. The notes devote a considerable amount of attention to critical matters.

Paperback editions only available for inspection.

Further volumes are in preparation.

The African Writers Series

This paperback series is now acknowledged as one of the outstanding publishing achievements of the decade. It contains most of the best African writing in English. Although originally planned with the African market in mind the quality and variety of so much of this writing has led to a great increase of interest in it in the UK. A complete list of titles in the series is available on request.
