ABSTRACTS OF ENGLISH STUDIES was founded in 1958 by members of the University of Colorado Department of English. The editorial offices are now at THE UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY, ALBERTA. AES appears four times a year (the fourth number includes the Annual Index). At present approximately 500 journals and numerous monographs are screened for material dealing with American and English literature, world literature in English and related languages, and English language. These articles are abstracted by volunteer contributors and field editors.

AES abstracts are designed to indicate the content of the article or monograph as concisely as possible and without editorial bias. The abstracts state the thesis, express the method of development, and point to the major implications. Any subject mentioned in the abstract is covered significantly in the article. The abstract is intended as a quick guide to the basic utility of the article or monograph and should not be considered a substitute for the original.

Reference to the source of the article or monograph immediately follows the title, the journal or monograph title being abbreviated. A key to the abbreviations in all current issues immediately precedes the abstracts.

AES provides quarterly and annual indices, which are keyed to item number, not page number. The index contains, in a single alphabetical listing, two major types of entries: (1) names of people referred to significantly and (2) subjects treated. Generally the subject categories are used when the article is concerned with concepts, theories, themes, etc.

AES is issued four times a year (the fourth number containing an annual index) from the English Department, University of Calgary. CAMBRIDGE

Conrad Under Familial Eyes

ZDZISLAW NAJDER, Editor

Translated by Halina Carroll Najder

Bringing together a wide range of letters and documents that shed light on Joseph Conrad's cultural roots, this book corrects misconceptions regarding Conrad's background and provides a documentary basis for future research and criticism. $37.50

D.H. Lawrence: The White Peacock

ANDREW ROBERTSON, Editor

D.H. Lawrence's first novel, The White Peacock, was begun in 1906, rewritten three times, and published in 1911. The Cambridge edition uses the final manuscript as the base-text and faithfully recovers Lawrence's words and punctuation from the layers of publishers' house-styling and errors.

D.H. Lawrence: The Lost Girl

JOHN WORTHEN, Editor

Dr. Worthen traces the development of Lawrence's sixth novel, The Lost Girl, from the first drafts in 1912–13 to publication and censorship by his English publisher. The hitherto unpublished version of the opening chapter is included in this edition.

New Zealand Literature

A special number on New Zealand literature is planned for 1985. Submissions are invited on the poetry, fiction, and drama of New Zealand; original New Zealand poems are invited for our poetry selection. The issue will be co-edited by Charles Doyle and C. K. Stead. Submissions should be sent to the ARIEL office to reach the editors by May 31, 1985.

Forthcoming and planned for ARIEL: in 1984, the October special number on Issues of Language, with poetry by Edward Kamau Brathwaite and Arthur Yap and articles on English poetry in polylingual Singapore by Jan B. Gordon, on Wilson Harris at work by Jack Healy, and on African discourse by Abdul Jan-Mohamed; in 1985 numbers on the literature of Africa South, Contemporary Writing, and our special number on New Zealand literature.
