

Contributors

Shoumik Bhattacharya is an Assistant Professor at Metro State University, Minnesota, US. He works at the intersection of political economy and cultural studies, thinking through the interconnectedness of the ecological and socio-political crises facing the Global South. His research interests also include global feminisms, queer theory, and post-humanisms.

Jiwon Choi is a lecturer at Seoul National University, South Korea. Her research interests include twentieth- and twenty-first-century fiction, empathy studies, health humanities, and ecocriticism. She has published essays on J. M. Coetzee and Charlotte Brontë and has a forthcoming article on Edwidge Danticat. Her current project explores aging in Victorian literature.

Eva Darias-Beautell is a Professor of Canadian literatures in English at the University of La Laguna. She is a regular visiting scholar at Canadian universities and has published extensively on contemporary Canadian literatures and cultures. She has successfully directed seven funded international research projects. Her latest research is within the grant The Premise of Happiness: The Function of Feelings in North American Narratives. Darias-Beautell also leads the group TransCanadian Networks: Excellence and Transversality from Spain about Canada towards Europe.

Alden Sajor Marte-Wood is an Assistant Professor of English at Vassar College. His research focuses on Southeast Asian anglophone literature, postcolonial studies, and transnational political economy.

Rouni Pan is a Ph.D. Candidate in the School of English Studies at Shanghai International Studies University. Her primary research interests are contemporary British theatre, post-modern paradigms, and theories of identity, particularly in the contexts of gender, ethnicity, culture and nation.

Jarula M. I. Wegner is a Lecturer of Literatures in English at the University of the West Indies, St. Augustine, in Trinidad and Tobago. He is Book Review Editor of the journal Memory Studies, Editorial Board member of the Festival Culture Research and Education network, Co-speaker of the Global Memories Working Group at the Memory Studies Association, and Member of the Working Group for Critical Social Theory and Social Philosophy at the Institute for Social Research in Frankfurt, Germany. His work has been published in journals such as Caribbean Quarterly, Critical Arts, Journal of West Indian Literature, Memory Studies, and Wasafiri.