Anthony Potts' new book, Civic Leaders and the University: State and Municipal Politicians' Perspectives on Higher Education in Australia (2003) details the historical and contemporary record that civic leaders have played in the foundation of universities. It then examines the perspectives of a group of regional politicians from Australia concerning their local universities. The discussion is framed in terms of notions of the self, identity and leadership in the network and informational society. The book is published by Peter Lang, Bern, Switzerland and can be ordered online from the bookstore at www.peterlang.com.

Martin S. Staum's Labeling People: French Scholars on Society, Race, and Empire, 1815-1848 is an examination of techniques used by scholarly societies to classify people that constructed the image of an inferior "Other" to promote social stability at home and a relationship of domination or paternalism with non-Europeans abroad. Call for Papers

Canadian History of Education Association/L'Association Canadienne d'Histoire de l'Éducation

13th Biennial Conference Call for Papers
Calgary, Alberta, Canada
21-24 October 2004

Interdisciplinarity in the Practice and Theory of Educational Histories

In anticipation of the Canadian History of Education Association's upcoming 25th Anniversary, the Programme Committee invites proposals for individual papers and panel sessions from scholars, researchers, instructors, students, and teachers in schools, postsecondary settings, and communities, and from other interested participants. The theme of the conference is intended to encompass paper and panel sessions that discuss the histories of education from a variety of academic fields, disciplines, methodologies, comparative perspectives, theories, and arguments. Submissions outside the conference theme are welcome, and are also encouraged from international scholars and students.

The paper or panel proposals must include: the name, institutional affiliation, and contact addresses and email of the presenter, an abstract of 250 words in length, and a one-page curriculum vitae that gives details on qualifications, publications, and current research. For panel proposals, please include this information for each presenter. Send the proposal via email attachment, fax, or regular post to the Chair of the Programme Committee by 2 APRIL 2004 (this is an extended deadline).

The Conference website is currently under construction. Registration forms will be available in the near future at: <http://chea-ache.ucalgary.ca/>

13th Biennial Conference of the Appel de communications

Calgary, Alberta, Canada
DU 21 au 24 octobre 2004

L'Interdisciplinarité dans la pratique et dans la théorie de l'histoire de l'éducation

Lors du 25e anniversaire de l'association canadienne d'histoire de l'éducation, nous invitons tous les chercheurs, les étudiants et les enseignants dans les milieux scolaires, universitaires et communautaires à nous faire parvenir des résumés de communications. Veuillez indiquer si vous désirez participer à un panel ou à une présentation individuelle. Le thème de la conférence englobe une grande variété de champs, disciplines, méthodologies perspectives comparatives, théories et arguments intellectuels. Nous encourageons les savants et les étudiants internationaux à nous soumettre leurs résumés de communications. Les soumissions qui portent sur d'autres thématiques seront également les bienvenues.

Le formulaire devra inclure le nom de la personne, le nom de l'institution, l'adresse et le courriel du conférencier. Celui-ci devra être complété et envoyé avec un résumé de 250 mots sur une page séparée ainsi qu'un curriculum vitae d'une page seulement, qui détaille vos qualifications, vos publications et votre recherche courante. Prière d'envoyer vos résumés ainsi que la documentation à l'appui par courriel, par télécopieur ou par la poste au président du comité de lecture avant le 2 Avril 2004. C'est une date-limitée prolongée.

Le site de la Conférence est sous construction. Les formulaires d'inscriptions seront disponibles prochainement; visitez: <http://chea-ache.ucalgary.ca/>
